

Music, Vocal Performance Concentration, B.M.

North Carolina Community College classes are listed below in left column. The UNC Charlotte equivalent course is listed in the column next to the NCCCS courses.

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte strongly recommends students complete their Associate degree prior to transferring to UNC Charlotte. Pathways are structured for students who have completed all requirements for their Associate degree and qualify for the CAA. This plan follows the UNC System Associate in Fine Arts in Music uniform articulation agreement (https://www.nccommunitycolleges.edu/sites/default/files/basic-pages/academic-programs/attachments/uniform_art_agree_afa_music.pdf).

A student with an A.F.A. in Music from a North Carolina community college may take 2 to 3 years to complete a B.M. in Music with a concentration in Composition, depending on how much Music Theory the student has taken at the community college. Students who do not take the third and fourth semesters at the community college will need to enroll in sophomore-level courses at UNC Charlotte before progressing to upper-division music courses, particularly those in music theory and composition. Students who complete MUS 221 and MUS 222 at an NC community college are exempt from the third and fourth semesters of Music Theory and Ear Training at UNC Charlotte, can enter directly into upper-division coursework, and may be able to complete the program in less than three years.

Please Note: BDP's are developed based on the approved curriculum for each catalog year. Based on admitted term of entry and the curriculum posted for the catalog year, programs of study are subject to change.
